The college has a comprehensive approach to supporting its teaching and non teaching staff, both professionally and personally. Providing avenues for career development, such as training, workshops, and seminars, shows a commitment to enhancing skills and knowledge. Encouraging academic advancement for faculty and supporting staff in updating their administrative skills demonstrates an investment in their growth within the institution. Moreover, prioritizing the wellness of employees and enabling them to reach their full potential not only benefits the individuals but also contributes to a positive work environment and ultimately enhances the quality of education and services provided by the college.

1. Incentives for Research Publication: Providing financial incentives for faculty members who publish research papers can be a powerful motivator. It encourages them to engage in scholarly activities and contributes to the institution's research output.
2. Encouragement for Faculty Development Programs (FDP): Continuous learning and professional development are crucial for educators. Offering support and encouragement for faculty to participate in FDPs helps them stay updated with the latest teaching methodologies, technologies, and research trends.
3. Leave for Workshop/Seminar/Conference Attendance: Providing leave for faculty members to attend workshops, seminars, and conferences ensures that they can participate in these valuable professional development opportunities without disrupting their regular teaching and administrative duties.
4. Seed Money for Research: Offering seed funding for research projects enables faculty members to kick-start their research endeavors. This initial financial support can be crucial for conducting pilot studies, collecting preliminary data, or exploring new research directions.
5. Financial Assistance for Conference/Workshop/Seminar Attendance: Financial support for attending conferences, workshops, and seminars helps alleviate the financial burden on faculty members, especially for those who may have limited research funds or are from resource-constrained departments.
6. Leave for Extension and Community Work: Allowing faculty members to engage in extension and community work by providing leave demonstrates the institution's commitment to social responsibility and community engagement. It allows faculty members to apply their expertise and contribute to societal development.
7. Technical Training for Non Teaching Staffs: Providing technical training to faculty members on management software systems equips them with the necessary skills to efficiently manage administrative tasks, academic resources, and data. This enhances operational efficiency and effectiveness within the institution.
8. Festival Bonus: Festival Bonus provided to Non Teaching Staffs during festive seasons, allowing them to celebrate and meet their additional financial needs without straining their finances.

9. Promotion of Staffs: The IQAC verifies and oversees Career Advancement of Teachers according to the regulations of UGC and the Govt. Two SACT teachers promoted from SACT II to SACT I & the process of CAS initiated for four Assistant Professors.

These incentives and support mechanisms collectively contribute to creating a conducive environment for faculty members to excel in their teaching, research, and professional development endeavors, ultimately benefiting both the faculty and the institution as a whole.

Faculty Development Programme

Workshop on Research Methodology

Resource Person: Dr. Amalendu Bhunia, Professor, Dept. of Commerce, University of Kalyani

Organised by IQAC

Date: 05.04.2023 Time : 12- 4 pm

Venue: B3 (Smart Room)

Convenors: Dr. Abhijit Ghosh, Assistant Professor of English & Coordinator, IQAC & , & Dr.
Subham Dastidar, Assistant Professor of Commerce

No. of Participants: 40 Teachers

Expenditure: Rs. 2000/- (Honorarium)

Objectives of the programme:

1. The workshop was organised to provide the teachers with a concise knowledge of Research methodology to help them in their research.
2. To encourage the teachers to undertake research

Structure of the Programme:

Programme Schedule

12 -12: 15pm	Inauguration and Welcome Address	Dr. Pratap Bannerjee
12: 15 - 2 pm	Address of the Resource Person: 1st Session	Dr. Amalendu Bhunia,
2:00 - 2:30 pm	Lunch Break
2: 30 - 3: 50 pm	2nd Session	Dr. Amalendu Bhunia
3:50 - 4 pm	Vote of Thanks	Dr. Abhijit Ghosh

In the first session, Dr. Amalendu Bhunia spoke in general about key points to remember while undertaking research in any discipline, whether Humanities, Social science or Science. The first challenge is to frame the research question in a precise manner and to have a very clear notion of the research problems. Dr. Bhunia provided hands-on example provided by participants to illustrate how to frame questions and how to select a title for the thesis. He defined the meaning of hypothesis. The research problems should in turn be based on and selected from a wide area of research, by reading the available literature and identifying the research gap. He underlined the significance of understanding the historical background of any field of research and then thinking about the research problem through a conceptual framework. He spoke about the philosophy behind qualitative and quantitative methods of research, Inductive and deductive approaches etc.. Dr. Bhunia provided a detailed guideline of how to write a thesis, he spoke about the chapters of research thesis and what to include in these chapters especially the Introductory chapter, which must include the rationale for research, the scope, research objective and the policy statement.

in the 2nd session dr. Bhunia interacted with the participants and provided detailed guidelines on selecting a methodology and framing survey questionnaire for various subjects.

Outcome: The participating Teachers were enriched through the continuous interaction with the resource person during the workshop. Many teachers clarified the concepts and asked about problems in their research areas. All questions and doubts were answered by the Dr. Bhunia to the satisfaction of all participants.

Convenor: Dr. Abhijit Ghosh, Assistant Professor of English & Coordinator, IQAC

No. of Participants: 25 Teachers

Expenditure: Rs. 2000/- (Honorarium)

Objectives of the programme:

1. To make teachers aware of the knowledge domains, library databases and open source resources available online
2. To encourage teachers to use e-resources for research
3. Encourage teachers to use e-resources in everyday Teaching -Learning activity

Structure of the Programme:

Programme Schedule

12- 12:05 pm	Inauguration	Sri Monoranjan Byapari, Hon'ble MLA, President of G.B.
12:05 -12:15 pm	Welcome Address	Dr. Pratap Banerjee, Principal
12.15 – 1: 45 pm	Address of the resource person	Dr. Sukumar Mandal
1:45 -1: 55 pm	Q & A Session	Abhijit Ghosh, Coordinator, IQAC
1:55 pm - 2 pm	Vote of Thanks	Abhijit Ghosh, Coordinator, IQAC

Sri Monoranjan Byapari, Hon'ble MLA, President of G.B. graced the programme by his presence and delivered the inaugural address. The Principal Dr. Pratap Banerjee welcomed the Resources person of the workshop, Dr. Sukumar Mandal.

The resource person highlighted new avenues of research through knowledge domains, library databases and open source resources available online. He said that these resources could be very helpful, if used efficiently, in research as well as teaching learning. It was pointed out that that availability of e-resources and knowledge domains has made available a lot of material online so that scholars do not have to physically visit libraries to access relevant materials for a thesis. It has therefore cut down physical as well as time limitations. He advised that the College library should incorporate the knowledge databases so that both teachers and students can avail the benefit of e-resources. The speaker also provided a hands-on training on how to access the knowledge databases either individually or through subscription by the college.

Outcome: The Teachers were enriched through the knowledge of such resources and the Principal agreed that the digital databases would be linked to the Library portal of the College

Subject: Application for Financial Aid for Seminar Participation and Paper Presentation

Respected Sir,

I am writing to request financial aid from this college to cover the expenses incurred during my participation and paper presentation in the ONE DAY NATIONAL SEMINAR on ETHICS IN PRACTICE which was held on 21st March, 2023 in Panskura Banamali College (Autonomous). I have been given the honor of presenting a research paper titled "UNIVERSAL HUMANISM OF RABINDRANATH" during the seminar. The seminar provided an exceptional opportunity to expand my knowledge, network with experts, and stay updated with the latest trends and advancements in my area of expertise. However, the costs associated with attending the seminar, including registration fees which was Rs. 700/-, travel expenses have put a significant financial burden on me. While I am passionate about expanding my skills and contributing to the growth of this college, I am unable to cover these costs independently due to my limited financial resources.

I kindly request you to consider providing financial aid to assist me in reimbursing a portion or the entirety of the expenses incurred during the conference. I have attached all the relevant documentation, such as receipts and paper presentation certificate, Seminar Brochure, for your reference. I sincerely believe that by supporting my professional development, this college will ultimately benefit from an enhanced workforce, improved expertise, and increased productivity.

Thank you for considering my request. I look forward to a positive response.

Sincerely,

Mousumi Saha . 20.05.23.
