

JAGARAN LITERARY CLUB

On 6th January 2016 the literary club "JAGARAN" Was formed by the students of the department of Bengali English and Sanskrit of Balagarh Bijoy Krishna Mahavidyalaya. The renowned poet Arun Kumar Chakraborty inaugurated the club. He first gave an enlightening speech on the subject of the role of literary organisations and then There was a discussion with the students present. The Honourable principal All the Faculties of the language department departments and the students more than 100 of the college were present there in the meeting post a committee was formed on the very date by the selected students. The students also took part in the question answer session.

Aims of Jagaran Literary Club:

As per the significance of the title JAGARAN, the aim of Jagaran Literary Club is to arouse in the minds of the students and teachers the eagerness to read and appreciate a wide range of literary works, including classic and contemporary fiction, non-fiction, poetry, and drama and create a supportive environment where students and teachers can share their thoughts on literature, discuss books and authors, and connect with others who have similar interests. In order to fulfil the said purpose, Jagaran Literary Club offers memberships from students and teachers.

Almost every year the literary club publishes Journal for Creative Activities in which, portraits of eminent personalities, or concepts, poems, essays and other compositions done by students from different years are merged as a collection. The Literary Club also takes effort in organising different seminars, readers' meet and cultural programmes to engage students in order to develop a camaraderie among them by discussions, cultural performances and many more.

During the period of Corona, webinars were organised under Jagaran Literary Club in which guest speakers have delivered speeches highlighting various points of literature.
